

I definitely disapprove of the telemarket list and very much support the protection against it. I take it as harrassment when I'm trying to eat my supper in peace or I'm engaged in something else on my own time. This is my time and nobody elses unless I choose it to be. If I'm interested in making a purchase of any kind -- I go to the source and make that purchase. I don't wait or want to wait for someone to be calling me regarding anything of this nature.

Thank you.
